

Guild Insurance Acupuncturists & Chinese Medicine Practitioners

Approved modalities

Members can provide any of the following modalities or practices:

- a. Acupuncturist.
- b. Traditional Chinese Medicine.
- c. Chinese Herbal Medicine.
- d. Prescribing, compounding, mixing and/or dispensing of therapeutic products listed or registered with the Australian Register of Therapeutic Goods as part of the provision of services listed under parts (a) – (c) above.
- e. Prescribing, compounding, mixing and/or dispensing of individual processed or unprocessed herbs or other similar therapeutic products as part of the provision of services listed under parts (a) – (c) above.
- f. Conduct of classes in Tai Chi, Qi Gong, Yoga; Feldenkrais; Alexander Technique; Pilates.
- g. Traditional Chinese Medicine, Chinese Herbal Medicine and / or Acupuncture consultancy.
- h. Modalities or activities as listed under AACMA Approved Modalities List as stated in this Schedule provided by you or on your behalf.
- i. Supervision of Student Practitioners in the provision of services listed in (a) – (f) & (h) above.

Additionally the scheme allows the following complimentary medicine & alternative therapies:

Acupressure	Dermal Hammer	Iridology	Remedial Therapy
Acutonics and Acutonics Training	Dry needling	Kinesiology	Rolfing
Animal Acupuncture (no studs, no pure breeds, no racing animals)	Ear piercing	Massage	Scraping / spooning (Guasha)
Aromatherapy	Electro Acupuncture	Mineral Salts or Tissue Salts	Shiatsu
Aurasoma	Emotional Therapy	Moxibustion	Sotai / Setai Therapy
Bioelectric testing machines including Ryodoraku, Vega, other bio – electric or bio dermal machines (provided these are not the sole basis of patient assessment, diagnosis or treatment)	Energy Balance	Myotherapy	Stress Management Counselling
Body Harmony	Ethics consulting to	Naturopathy	Structural Balancing

	other members of AACMA
Bowen Technique	Flower Essences	Neurolinguistic Programming (counselling)	Synopsis Wave Therapy
Celoid Mineral Therapy	Haemaview Analysis (provided this is not the sole basis of patient assessment, diagnosis or treatment)	Nutritional Advice & Dietary Advice	Tuina (TCM Remedial Massage)
Chinese Herbal Dispensing on prescription from other practitioners by registered dispenser only.	Hair analysis (provided this is not the sole basis of patient assessment, diagnosis or treatment)	Point Injection Therapy / Biomesotherapy / Homotoxicology	Ultrasound (where not used for scanning)
Classes in Tai Chi, Qi Gong, Yoga, Pilates, Feldenkrais, Alexander technique	Herbalism	Point Percussion	Vitamin and Mineral Therapy
Clinical Supervision and Training of Students (Private Practice only)	Homeopathy	Pranic Healing	Water Shiatsu
Counselling	Hypnotherapy (must not be present at birth)	Reflexology	Western Herbal Medicine
Cupping	Ion Pumping Cords	Reiki	Western Remedial Therapy
Ear Candling (Ear coning or thermal-auricular therapy)	Sacro-Cranial Therapy	Blood Analysis as approved modality Haemaview analysis	Derma Rolling
Pulsed Magnetic Therapy using Ondamed	Bioresonance		